Introduction

This bulletin contains crime and performance statistics for the year 1 April 2008 to 31 March 2009. Where appropriate, a comparison is given for the previous year.

The crime/offence figures are collated from British Transport Police's (BTP's) computerised crime reporting system, CRIME. The recording of crime is not static and the figures represent a snapshot in time, i.e. the state of the system at 31 March 2008 and 2009.

BTP compiles crime statistics for England, Wales and Scotland. In England and Wales, these statistics are broken down into six geographical areas – North Eastern, North Western, Wales and Western, London Underground/DLR, London North and London South.

In England and Wales, crimes fall into two groups: notifiable offences, which are serious offences that have to be reported to the Home Office; and non-notifiable offences, which are less serious offences not reported to the Home Office.

In Scotland, all crimes and offences are reported to the Scottish Office and published in their bulletin.

The groups are then broken down into 12 crime categories:

- violent crime
- sexual offences
- criminal damage
- line of route offences
- theft of passenger property
- motor vehicle/cycle offences
- robbery
- theft of railway property
- public disorder offences
- fraud offences
- drugs
- other crimes

Crime statistics should be treated with caution. Dramatic fluctuations, whether up or down, can be misleading and if misused statistics can contribute to the fear of crime. Hundreds of millions of passenger journeys are made safely each year and the statistics should be viewed in that context.

The following points are given for guidance:

1 The Home Office introduced a National Crime Recording Standard (NCRS) that all police forces across England and Wales were required to adopt. BTP adopted this standard on 1 April 2002. The basic principles of NCRS are that if on the balance of probability a crime has been committed, it is recorded as a crime. The standard has made crime recording more victim focused.

2 Crime statistics are not always accurate indicators of risk. Police activity to target particular offences, changes in reporting patterns and other factors can affect reported crime figures.

3 Apparent anomalies, such as more crimes being detected than have been reported, are due to the fact that statistics reflect crimes and detections recorded during a specific period. Detections may relate to crimes reported in earlier periods.

4 A summary of 2008/09 crime statistics was published by press release on 20 May 2009. Figures for London North have been adjusted slightly since then, although the overall number of crimes remains unchanged.

5 Two new crime categories have been separated out in 2008/09 – proceeds of crime (drugs) and proceeds of crime (excluding drugs). These offences were previously included in the 'other offences' categories within their groups.

2008/09 statistics

Total notifiable and non-notifiable offences fell in 2008/09 by 3.5% with a total of 105,656 offences reported. Notifiable crime was down 4.5% from 70,368 to 67,217.

Within these figures, there were 2.4% fewer violent crimes, including a 1% fall in serious assaults.

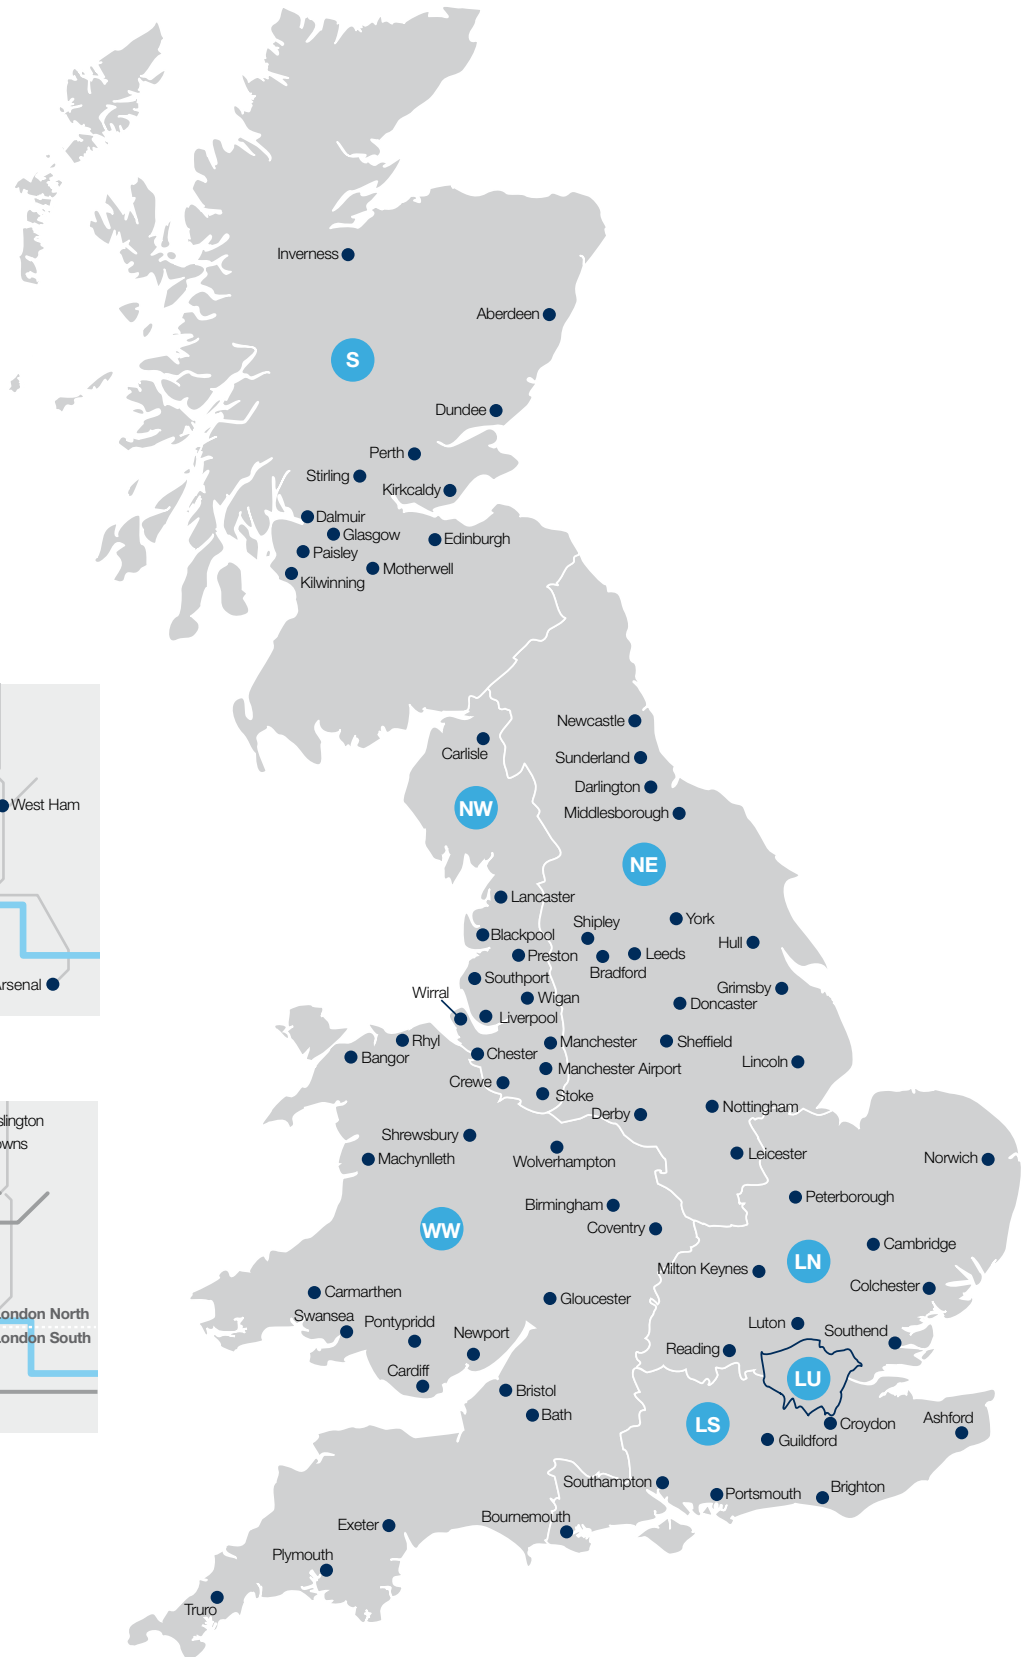

Robberies were reduced by 16% following a 46% fall the previous year and theft of passenger property was down by 16%. Route crime was down for the sixth year in a row, by 9%, and criminal damage fell by 17%

The continuing focus on anti-social behaviour and low-level disorder contributed to a 4% increase in public disorder offences as well as a 47% increase in reported drugs offences.

The detection rate for all offences (notifiable and non-notifiable) was 39.8%. Of the 67,217 notifiable crimes reported to BTP in 2008/09, 21,715 were detected; a detection rate of 32.3% compared to 27.0% in 2007/08.
