					box of chocolates and a box of biscuits Last Summer, I entertained a delegation of police officers from UAE and showed them a county lines operation. At FHQ today, I have picked up a small parcel sent to me by one of the delegation [Redacted], which contained a box of chocolates and a box of biscuits. These were seemingly sent to celebrate new year. I am highly unlikely to see any UAE officers again, I did not encourage them to send me a gift and I had no idea what it was, or who it was from until I opened it. It would be very difficult (and perhaps culturally insensitive) to send the items back, and the items are of low value. I have therefore asked my line manager (cc'd) for authority to keep these items and she has agreed. I am therefore sending this for transparency reasons, and I attach a photograph, for your records.	£0.00	0	Yes	Gift of Insignificant Value		Finalised

HG/00013/25	10/02/2025	D Scotland	Unknown member of the public	Cash / Gift Card	Description of Gift or Hospitality: Costa coffee gift card Superintendent or Department Head Response: Approved Superintendent or Department Head Comments: An unknown female MOP in her 50's approached officer and gave her a £10 costa giftcard as a thank you and appreciation for what police officers do. Officers thanked the lady and tried to decline however she insisted that she wanted to reward the officers. In this instance it appears to be a random act of kindness towards the 3 officers that the lady happened to see and clearly could have been any officers as the lady seems to be pro police. Officers did try to decline however the lady was insistent and to prevent any offence they took the cards. As they are low value I am satisfied in authorising the retention of these.	£10.00	2	Yes	Gesture of Appreciation	Finalised

HG/00014/25	18/02/2025	A FHQ	Redacted - discloses personal details	Consumables	Description of Gift or Hospitality: Hotel Chocolat 'The Everything' box of chocolates Approved Superintendent or Department Head Comments: The family have made it clear that they would like the gift to be accepted by the officer and wider team for the work and support they gave them during this difficult time. Whilst I note that the chocolates could be given to a charity or similar I feel this could actually cause more distress to the family who have made the gift which is perishable in good faith and with the sole intention of thanking the officer/staff for their work.	£44.95	3	Yes	Gesture of Appreciation		Finalised

HG/00021/25	12/03/2025	A FHQ	Xenium	Other	Description of Gift or Hospitality: Travel costs for police staff, overnight stay accommodation to attend iPatrol conference next week. Max 3 people, approx. value £500 in total Superintendent or Department Head Response: Not Approved Superintendent or Department Head Comments: I will approve one person going to the i-patrol conference, not three people. One person can go and represent the force, take notes and bring the learning back to BTP. The supplier will pay for the hotel as they want BTP's attendance at the conference and BTP are on a hotel ban at present. We have been in contract with iPatrol for a long time and have no plans to change supplier for another 6 years or so. This request is declined as 3 people is too many.	£500.00	5	No	Other		Finalised
HG/00022/25	12/03/2025	A FHQ	Xenium	Other	Description of Gift or Hospitality: Accommodation, food for one person to attend iPatrol Conference organised by Xenium. The full cost will be fully covered by Xenium. Approximate value: £175-£200 Superintendent or Department Head Response: Approved Superintendent or Department Head Comments: Approved because Xenium really want representation from BTP at the conference as we are the leading force for i-patrol and HOBBS. We have a hotel and travel ban and the conference is now available via Teams, therefore I have initially declined anyone attending. We have been in contract for a number of years and we will continue to be in contract for about another 6 years - so Xenium paying for a hotel for one member of BTP to attend, has no bearing on the position that iPatrol is the mobile application of choice for BTP.	£200.00	5	Yes	Other		Finalised
